Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 15, 2016, Kosmos Energy Mauritania (“Kosmos Mauritania”) and Kosmos Energy Senegal (“Kosmos Senegal”), each a wholly-owned subsidiary of Kosmos Energy Ltd. (the “Company”), entered into agreements with certain subsidiaries of BP p.l.c. for the farm-out of the Company’s interests in blocks C6, C8, C12 and C13 offshore the Islamic Republic of Mauritania (the “Mauritania Blocks”) and the Saint Louis offshore Profond and Cayar Offshore Profond blocks offshore Senegal (the “Senegal Blocks”). Closing of the several transactions described below is expected in the first quarter of 2017, with an effective date of July 1, 2016, subject to customary conditions, including governmental approvals.

Kosmos Mauritania entered into a farm-out agreement, dated December 15, 2016 (the “Mauritania Agreement”), with BP Exploration (West Africa) Limited (“BP Mauritania”), relating to Kosmos Mauritania’s licenses covering the Mauritania Blocks. Under the terms of the Mauritania Agreement, BP Mauritania will acquire a 62% participating interest in the Mauritania Blocks while paying 68.89% of the payment obligations due under the joint operating agreements among Kosmos Mauritania, BP Mauritania and La Societe Mauritanienne Des Hydrocarbures et de Patrimoine Minier (“SMHPM”). SMHPM will continue to hold its 10% participating interest in the Mauritania Blocks, and Kosmos Mauritania will retain a 28% participating interest in the Mauritania Blocks. BP Mauritania will be required to fund various payments and costs under the Mauritania Agreement, including, but not limited to: (i) a $120 million initial payment to Kosmos Mauritania, (ii) costs and expenditures made from the July 1, 2016 effective date to the completion of the farm-out transaction, (iii) exploration and appraisal costs, up to a maximum of $221 million (together with such costs under the Senegal Agreement), and development costs, up to $533.4 million (together with such costs under the Senegal Agreement) and (iv) a contingent production royalty of $0.0167 per gross barrel produced from eligible discoveries within the Mauritania Blocks multiplied by the average price of Brent crude oil during the relevant production quarter, with a ceiling of $2.00 per barrel for up to 1.0 billion barrels of gross oil produced in aggregate from the Mauritania Blocks and Senegal Blocks. Completion of the farm-out transaction in Mauritania is subject to customary government approvals and other conditions precedent.

Kosmos Senegal entered into a sale and purchase agreement, also dated December 15, 2016 (the “Senegal Agreement”), with BP Indonesia Oil Terminal Investment Limited (“BP Senegal”), relating to Kosmos Senegal’s subscribed equity interest in shares of Normandy Ventures Limited (the “JVCo”), an affiliate of Kosmos Senegal, which will hold Kosmos Senegal’s participating interests in the Senegal Blocks upon transfer by Kosmos Senegal. Under the terms of the Senegal Agreement, BP Senegal will acquire a 32.49% effective participating interest in the licenses covering the Senegal Blocks through its purchase of 49.99% of the JVCo shares. In consideration therefor, BP Senegal will pay to Kosmos Senegal approximately $42 million upon satisfaction of the conditions precedent to and completion of the sale transaction under the Senegal Agreement. In addition, BP Senegal will be required to fund various fees, payments and costs under the Senegal Agreement, including, but not limited to: (i) costs and expenditures made from the July 1, 2016 effective date to the completion of the sale transaction, (ii) exploration and appraisal costs, up to a maximum of $221 million (together with such costs under the Mauritania Agreement), (iii) development costs, up to $533.4 million (together with such costs under the Mauritania Agreement), and (iv) a contingent production royalty of $0.00875 per gross barrel produced from eligible discoveries within the Senegal Blocks multiplied by the average price of Brent crude oil during the relevant production quarter, with a ceiling of $1.05 per barrel, for the first 1.0 billion barrels of gross oil produced in aggregate from the Senegal Blocks and the Mauritania Blocks. Such costs and expenditures payable to Kosmos Senegal shall be adjusted according to the Senegal Agreement in the event that JVCo owns less than a 65% participating interest in the Senegal Blocks. Completion of the sale transaction in Senegal is subject to customary government approvals and other conditions precedent.

NEWS RELEASE

KOSMOS ENERGY AND BP ANNOUNCE PARTNERSHIP IN MAURITANIA AND SENEGAL

DALLAS, Texas, December 19, 2016 — Kosmos Energy (NYSE: KOS) announced today that it has entered into a partnership with BP (LSE: BP) in Mauritania and Senegal that combines Kosmos' exploration expertise with BP's deepwater development, and LNG production and marketing experience.

Under the terms of the agreement, BP will assume named operatorship and acquire a 62 percent working interest in Kosmos' licenses covering blocks C6, C8, C12, and C13 offshore Mauritania, as well as an effective 32.49 percent working interest in the licenses covering the Saint Louis Offshore Profond and Cayar Offshore Profond blocks offshore Senegal. Kosmos will maintain a 28 percent and 32.51 percent effective working interest in the licenses offshore Mauritania and Senegal, respectively, and will continue as exploration operator.

Andrew G. Inglis, Kosmos Energy's chairman and chief executive officer said: "This agreement with BP demonstrates the value of our strategy, together with the quality of the basin we have opened offshore Mauritania and Senegal. Following a thorough farm-out process, BP emerged as the right partner to help us advance the Tortue gas project at pace and take forward a multi-well exploration program that will test the basin's liquids potential beginning in mid-2017. We are pleased to have secured a super-major partner that brings financial capability, deepwater development and LNG expertise, and a vision that is fully aligned with the interests of both countries."

Bernard Looney, BP upstream chief executive said: "The Mauritania-Senegal basin is an asset with world-class scale and potential, and we look forward to working with the team at Kosmos and the governments of Mauritania and Senegal to efficiently explore and develop its full potential. We believe the basin will become an important profit center for our upstream business."

Under the terms of the agreement, Kosmos will receive fixed consideration of $916 million, including:

- $162 million in cash up front;
- $221 million carry on exploration and appraisal, including a drill stem test (DST) on Tortue expected to be completed in 2017; and
- $533 million maximum carry on development costs until first gas production on the Tortue project, including a front end engineering and design (FEED) study to be completed in 2017 with the objective of reaching a final investment decision (FID) by 2018.

Kosmos will also receive a contingent bonus of up to $2 per barrel, for up to 1 billion barrels of liquids, structured as a production royalty, subject to a future liquids discovery and oil price.

Commenting on the commercial terms of the transaction, Mr. Inglis said: “The transaction strengthens our balance sheet by materially reducing our capital expenditure requirements, effectively funding our Mauritania-Senegal work program for the next several years. The enhanced free cash flow generation will enable us to continue to pursue other growth opportunities in our portfolio with discipline.”

Additionally, Kosmos and BP have entered into an exclusive exploration partnership covering potential new ventures opportunities in Mauritania, Senegal and The Gambia. Kosmos will remain exploration operator of all new ventures acquired within the areas of interest, while BP will become development operator.

Kosmos will provide additional information about the transaction during a conference call on January 4th, 2017 at 10 a.m. EST. The call will be available via telephone and webcast.
